The President of France Assassinated at Lyons.

The Murderer a Young Italian Anarchist
Who Stabbed Carnot While in His Carriage
Receiving an Ovation from His People.

President Carnot Murdered.

LYONS, June 25.—Marie Francois Sadi Carnot was assassinated last night by an Italian anarchist named Cesare Giovanni Sante, who, under the pretext of presenting a petition, sprang upon the steps of the president's landau, while he was being driven to the theater, and stabbed him near the heart, inflicting a wound from which he died at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

The president was visiting Lyons in connection with the international exhibition. His carriage was being driven slowly along in front of the Palais de Commerce, and then turned into the Rue de la Republique, still following the facade of the palace.

When halfway down the street, which was lined with enthusiastic crowds of people who were loudly cheering, a man rushed out of the crowd and sprang upon the step of the president's landau. Just at this moment M. Carnot was waving his right hand and saluting with his hat in his left hand in response to the ovation that was given him by the crowd. The people close to the carriage saw the man standing on the step had a knife in hand. By the glare of the electric lights they saw the bright blade gleam in the air, as the assassin's arm descended, and then President Carnot was seen to fall back in his seat, deathly pale. One of his hands was pressed to his heart, where the steel had entered his body.

M. Rivard, prefect of Lyons, who was seated by President Carnot, immediately struck the assassin a blow full in the face and knocked him from the step, thus preventing the man from again stabbing the president, which it was his evident intention to do.

Instantly cries of "The president is assassinated!" "Death to the assassin!" were heard on every side, and the crowd in the vicinity of the carriage swelled to enormous proportions, every member of it seemingly intent upon killing the assassin. He was grasped by a dozen hands and his life would then and there paid the forfeit of his crime had it not been for several sergeants de ville, who seized him and attempted to draw him away from his captors.

This was found to be impossible, as the infuriated populace was determined to lynch the man. All efforts of the sergeants availed nothing beyond saving the man from instant death. Blows were aimed at his face and head over the shoulders of the police, who had by this time received reinforcements and many of the blows landed fairly. At last the police succeeded in driving the howling mob back a foot or so from their prisoner, but to get the captive through the crowd was a physical impossibility.

In the meantime the news of the attempted murder spread with lightning-like rapidity, and mounted guards were sent to the aid of the police, who were struggling to preserve the life of the assassin. With drawn sabres in their hands the guards rode down into the crowd heedless of whom their horses trampled upon. The crowd gave way before the horses, and at last the center of the mob was reached. Then a cordon was formed around the almost exhausted policeman and their captive, and the march to the police station began.

Physicians were hastily summoned to attend the president, who had immediately been conveyed to the prefecture. A careful examination was made of the wound and the doctors declared the condition of M. Carnot hopeless.

Shortly after midnight the archbishop of Lyons was summoned to the bedside of the dying president to administer to him the last rites of the church. He was in the room but a short time when he retired to an adjoining room. Here he remained until 12:30 o'clock, when he was again summoned to the president's room, where he administered to him the sacrament. M. Carnot remained conscious to the last. He realized that life was passing away and twice he said: "I am going."

Dr. Poncet leaned over the bed at 12:45 o'clock and said: "Your friends are here, Monsieur le President."

M. Carnot replied, faintly: "Thank you, my friends, thank you."

These were the president's last words, for the next instant there was a convulsive shudder and life passed away.

Santo, who speaks French badly, when questioned by Prefect Lepin at the police station in Rue Moliere, said he had lived at Certe, department of Perault, for the past six months and had only come to Lyons yesterday. He gave his age as 22. His replies were given coolly, but without any sign of bravado. He refused, however, to answer any of the many questions put to him regarding his motive for stabbing the president, declaring that on this subject he would speak only before a tribunal. When he was searched by the police, a book was found in one of his pockets, in which it was written that he had been born in a village in the province of Milan, Italy.

The excitement continues at fever heat and it would take very little to precipitate bloody anti-Italian riots. All over the city threats are made to take summary vengeance upon the countrymen of Santo, and the authorities, fearing that attempts would be made to put these threats into effect, ordered bodies of cuirassiers to patrol the city to prevent any outbreak.

SYMPATHY FOR FRANCE.

Official Action of the State Department and Congress on the Assassination of the French President.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—When the senate met yesterday Mr. Morgan, reported the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the senate of the United States unite with the American people in expressing to the people of France their sorrow and sympathy in the national bereavement they are suffering from the cruel blow of an assassin which was aimed at the peace of France and fell upon the heart of President Carnot. And as a mark of respect due to the memory of the wise, virtuous and patriotic president of the republic of France the senate will, at the close of this proceeding, stand adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

Second, that the president of the United States is requested to communicate this expression of national sorrow to the government of France and to M. Carnot.

Senator Morgan made a brief speech in which he referred to the patriotism of the French republic and the cordiality of the relations between the two republics and at 10:30 the senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

When the house met Mr. McCreary offered the following:

Resolved, That the house of representatives of the United States of America has heard with profound sorrow of the assassination of President Carnot and tenders the people of France sincere sympathy in their national bereavement. That the president of the United States be requested to communicate this expression of sorrow to the government of the republic of France and to Madame Carnot and that as a further mark of respect to the memory of the people of the French republic the house of representatives do now adjourn.

Mr. McCreary and Mr. Hitt spoke on the resolutions and they were adopted unanimously and the House at once adjourned.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

The following official action was taken by the state department on the receipt of Ambassador Eustis' official notification:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, June 25.—Eustis, Ambassador, Paris, France: Express to minister of foreign affairs the profound sorrow with which the president and America have heard of the atrocious crime which has robbed the sister republic of its wise, humane and patriotic chief magistrate.

GRESHAM.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The president took notice of the tragedy in the following message to congress:

To the senate and the house of representatives: The shocking intelligence is received that the president of the French republic met his death yesterday at the hands of an assassin. This terrible event which has overtaken a sister republic cannot fail to deeply arouse the sympathies of the American nation, while the violent termination of a career promising so much in aid of liberty and in advancing civilization should be mourned as an affliction of mankind.

GROVER CLEVELAND.
Executive Mansion, June 25, 1894.

THE TREASURY.

The President Talks on the Financial Situation—The Payment of Gold.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The president, in speaking of the financial situation, said to a Press representative yesterday:

The offer of certain of the New York banks to replace from their vaults the gold withdrawn from the government treasury for shipment abroad is certainly thoughtful and patriotic. It not only tends to make the treasury's gold reserve in good condition, but adds to the stock of popular confidence, which is at all times important. The elements which make up our actual situation do not justify any apprehension; and the administration still adheres to its pledge and determination to protect our national credit at all hazards, and to keep the quality of our money equal to the best, so far as the limits of executive power permit. Of course croaking and the spread of disquieting tales is calculated in the stringent financial condition.

I assume, however, that there is too much patriotism among our people and too much familiarity with our resources and capabilities to permit our reserved force and financial vigor to be discredited. When the last government bonds were issued to replenish our stock of gold it was nearly as low as now. While outside of our gold we had as available money to pay ordinary expenses of the government only about $19,000,000. We have now besides our gold, and in money applicable to government expenses, more than $33,000,000.

I understand it is charged in certain quarters that the payment of matured obligations is to replace from the amount of $50,000,000 or $55,000,000. This is not true. We are paying as we go, in the usual way. Last year up to June, the balance against us arising from the exports and imports of merchandise, excluding gold and silver, was $64,552,000. The balance in our favor for the same period last year was $82,900,502, representing a change in our favor of $18,348,502. These conditions, taken in consideration with the willingness of our banks to help the treasury during any temporary and unusual drain of gold, ought to satisfy the most fastidious of our safety. It must not be forgotten, as another favorable feature in the situation, that we are no longer purchasing silver or issuing gold obligations therefor.

AN AWFUL MINE HORROR.

Number Killed by an Explosion in the Albion Colliery Aggregates 250.

CARDIFF, June 26.—The men who have volunteered to search the Albion colliery at Cliffryd, the scene of the terrible explosion of fire damp Saturday evening, have been at work all day, but no further rescues have been effected. All hope for those still in the pit has been abandoned. The number of the dead will, it is believed, reach 250. It has been ascertained that 267 men and boys descended the shaft Saturday, and of this number only seven have been saved.

Late last evening the rescuing parties succeeded in extricating a large number of bodies. Thus far 172 bodies have been taken from the pit.

In Favor of Col. Moore.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Col. Moore will become congressman from the Second Kansas district and Congressman Funston will retire to private life, in the entirely probable event that the action of the house elections committee taken to-day is approved by the house. By a vote of 5 to 3 the elections committee decided that Mr. Moore is entitled to the seat.

Ernest Wiman Sentenced.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Ernest Wiman, the one-time millionaire promoter and Canadian Commercial union advocate, was sentenced to Sing Sing by Judge Ingraham in the court of Oyer and Terminer to-day for five years and six months for forgery in the second degree.

Great Portrait Painter Dead.

CHICAGO, June 26.—George P. Healy, recognized in two continents as one of the greatest portrait painters of the century, died at his home in this city yesterday at the age of 81. He was born in Boston.

DEATH OF JUDGE PERKINS.

The Ex-Senator from Kansas Dies Suddenly at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Bishop W. Perkins, of Oswego, Kan., ex-senator and representative, died suddenly at his residence in this city, at 4:12 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Death was the result of a severe attack of dyspepsia which attending physicians believe caused some form of brain paralysis.

News of the death spread rapidly about various corridors, and was a general topic of conversation among senators and representatives, with all of whom ex-Senator Perkins was a great favorite. His sudden death was a shock to his many congressional friends, who were not even aware that he had been temporarily confined to his room, and his entire family is BISSOP W. PERKINS, prostrated. Since noon yesterday he had been unconscious, but it was not until yesterday morning that any serious fears had been entertained.

Several weeks ago Senator Perkins left here to attend the republican state convention at Topeka. Before his death he explained that he had drunk too much ice water, and a trip to Oklahoma after the convention, where he was called on legal business, served to increase a slight dysentery he had acquired in Topeka.

Last Thursday he returned from Kansas to Washington, and spoke to the members of his family about his complaint. He did not regard it as serious, and, although urged to call in a physician, refused to do so. The family physician was finally summoned, but it was too late.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Judge Perkins was born at Rochester, O., October 18, 1842, his father being a prominent man in his locality in that state. When 18 years of age his father met with financial reverses and the young man went to Colorado, where he worked by the day in mines and other places. Soon after the war broke out young Perkins returned home and enlisted in the Eighty-third Illinois regiment and served with distinction, leaving the service as a captain. He then studied law, was admitted to the bar and came to Kansas twenty-two years ago. He located at Oswego, was elected to several local offices and finally chosen judge of the district. He was elected to congress four times, first on the general ticket from the state at large, and three times, in 1884-86-88, from the Third district, but in 1890 was defeated by the alliance candidate. When Senator Plumb died he was appointed by the governor as his successor in the United States senate and was succeeded by Senator Martin. When he left the senate he opened a law office in Washington and was doing a successful business at the time of his death.

THE TAYLORS ARRESTED.

The Slayers of the Weeks Family Captured in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 26.—William H. Taylor, a banker of Browning, Mo., and his brother, George Taylor, a farmer, who are charged with having murdered the Weeks family near Browning, Mo., on the night of May 10 last, and for whose arrest rewards aggregating $8,000 have been offered, are registered at Gleason's hotel, this city.

They are nominally under arrest, being in charge of Hon. Jerry Smith, member of the state legislature, who arrested the men at Buffalo City Saturday and brought them to this city. The men admit their identity, but claim to be innocent of the atrocious crime with which they are charged.

They are willing to return to Browning and stand trial, and say they fled to avoid mob violence.

An unusual feature in the case is that their captor, Mr. Smith, being a delegate to the democratic convention which convenes here next Wednesday, proposes to remain in this city with the Taylors until the convention adjourns.

SONS OF VETERANS MEET.

Tenth Annual Encampment of Missouri Division Held at Sedalia.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 26.—Upwards of 150 delegates representing seventy-nine camps are in attendance upon the tenth annual encampment of the Missouri division Sons of Veterans, which commenced in this city yesterday morning. Among the many prominent persons attending the encampment are Department Commander Louis Grund and staff, Commander-in-Chief Maccabe, of Boston, and Miss Belle Grey, national president of the Ladies' Aid society.

The Ladies' Aid society auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans met in annual session yesterday morning in Knights of Pythias hall, Miss Maude Crosson, of Kansas City, president of the society, presiding. Reports of the officers and the transaction of routine business consumed the day's session. The election of officers will take place this morning.

Three People Killed by a Water Tower.

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning, while the fire department was drilling on Broad street, the immense water tower toppled over and crushed into a surry, killing James H. Frederick, Mr. Frederick's wife and a gentleman named Rigby, who were in the surry escaping.

Cash Balance in the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The cash balance in the treasury yesterday was $115,594,696, of which $62,000,295 was gold; $1,000,000 in gold was taken yesterday from the New York sub-treasury for export. With Saturday's deposits in the sub-treasury this makes the true amount of the reserve $64,490,295.

To Stand by Dr. Briggs.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Union Theological seminary has changed its constitution so as to give the board of directors power to employ others than ordained ministers as members of the faculty. Should the general assembly depose Dr. Briggs from the ministry he could still be retained at the Union.

Funeral of Judge Perkins.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The remains of Hon. Bishop W. Perkins were interred Saturday at Rock Creek cemetery. The house adjourned early in the afternoon in order that the members might attend the funeral.

A SCORE DROWNED.

Disaster to a New York Excursion Party.

A Boat Swamped and More Than Twenty of the Passengers Drowned—Fatal Result of Overcrowding the Vessel.

River Horror.

New York, June 26.—The tug James D. Nichol, with sixty-three excursionists and a crew of ten or twelve, sank at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon 3 miles off the Highlands. Fifty-four of those on board have been accounted for, the rest were probably drowned.

The tug left Fifth street and East river at 7:30 in the morning, touched at pier 3, East river, and then went on to the fishing grounds. She had, it is said, a license to carry fifty passengers, but sixty-three tickets were sold. There was a bar and a lunch counter on board, whose attendants, with the crew, made the total number on board seventy-five. The tug reached the banks on time, but the fishing was poor and the sea too rough for comfort and about noon she started back.

When about 3 miles east of the Highlands and about 4 miles south of Scotland lightship the waves began to break heavily over her starboard rail. To dodge the water and wind the passengers began to run around to the port side and to climb on top of the deckhouse. The boat careened alarmingly to port and the water swept in over the rail. The terror-stricken men rushed back to starboard and the tug swung deeply down on that side. At the same moment a number of heavy breakers struck the boat in quick succession. The captain, William Hyatt, stuck pluckily to his post and sounded the whistle in a prolonged scream for help. Even as he did so the tug filled with the water that poured into her from both sides, and sank out of sight in the water. She went down like a stone, carrying many of the passengers with her.

The water choked the cry of the whistle, but not before it had been heard and heeded. The Clyde steamship Algonquin, a mile away, heard it and swung around to go to the rescue. The tugs Wallace K. Flint, R. J. Moran and Governor also hurried to the spot. From further away came the C. E. Evans, too late to be of service.

A few hours after sinking the tug was pretty well broken up and the wreckage began to come ashore. Before dark the entire beach was strewn with it. Forty-three lunch baskets were washed up. No bodies have come ashore.

Five People Drowned at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, June 26.—A cat-boat was capsized by a sudden squall yesterday morning off the Atlantic Yacht club house at the foot of Fifty-sixth street, Brooklyn. A pleasure party consisting of six people, two men, two women and a boy and a 2-year-old girl, were thrown into the water. The accident was witnessed from the shore and the Atlantic club's steam yacht at once put out to the rescue. The men and the women and the boy sank, however, before assistance could be rendered them. The little girl was saved.

Three More Deaths by Drowning.

DETROIT, Mich., June 26.—By the capsizing of a launch during a squall on Lake St. Clair Sunday afternoon three persons were drowned and two others narrowly escaped. The drowned are: Caleb E. Healy and the Misses Katie and Maggie Ortwin. Two other young women, Miss Roscoe and Miss Hawley, managed to keep afloat until rescued by the crew of the steamer J. H. Pauly. None of the bodies have been recovered.

COLORADO OUTRAGE.

Adj. Gen. Tarsney, of the State Militia Kidnaped and Tarred and Feathered by Masked Men.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., June 25.—Adj. Gen. Tarsney, of this state, said to be a brother of Congressman Tarsney, of Missouri, and ex-Congressman Tarsney, of Michigan, was kidnaped from the Alamo hotel a few minutes after midnight Saturday morning by masked men, supposed to be ex-deputy sheriffs, taken to the suburbs in a hack and there tarred and feathered. The outrage was the direct result of the recent Cripple Creek miners' war.

Gen. Tarsney had been in the city several days attending the examination of the arrested Bull Hill miners for whom he and Col. B. F. Montgomery, of Cripple Creek, appeared as attorneys.

Gen. Tarsney was found about 22 miles from the scene of the outrage and taken to Denver. Gov. Waite has offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture of the perpetrators of the deed.

PULLMAN EMPLOYES OUT.

The Shops at St. Louis and Ludlow, Ky. Closed by Strikes.

ST. LOUIS, June 26.—The employees of the Pullman Sleeping Car Co.'s works in this city struck to-day in accordance with a plan which is understood to embrace the Pullman shops all over the country. The strikers number 365 men and twenty women.

CINCINNATI, June 26.—The 200 employees of the Pullman company at Ludlow, Ky., went on a strike to-day in pursuance of orders from Chicago and will remain out until the company consents to arbitrate the difficulties in dispute.

The American Derby.

CHICAGO, June 25.—For the fourth time since the American Derby was inaugurated the black jacket, red Maltese cross, red sash and cap of Lucky Baldwin were first under the wires. His bay colt, Rey El Santa Anita, 40 to 1 in the betting, won the race easily by six lengths, in 2:36 flat, equalling the best time ever made in the race. Senator Grady finished second, and Domino, favorite in the betting, was absolutely last. The track and weather were perfect for the race.

In Chicago, Mrs. Carrie Reed, book keeper of the George Thamer Lumber Co., was shot five times and killed by a man supposed to be her husband. The murderer at once committed suicide.

IN CONGRESS.

Condensed Report of the Week's Proceedings in the Senate and House.

TUESDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—In the senate yesterday a resolution was reported and adopted authorizing the translation and publication of the proceedings of the recent Berlin silver conference. The senate then took up the tariff bill and continued its consideration until after 6 o'clock and at adjournment had made considerable progress.

The house in committee of the whole had the anti-option bill under consideration all day. Messrs. Coombs (N. Y.) and Aldrich (Ill.) spoke in opposition and Mr. Sibley (Pa.) favored it. The house adjourned at 5 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The senate made rapid progress on the tariff bill yesterday, the main provisions of the bill having been disposed of and the income tax schedule reached. The sugar schedule was quickly adopted when reached, which was somewhat of a surprise, as a fight had been expected. When the income tax was reached Mr. Pepper gave notice of an amendment for a graduated tax, running from 1 per cent. on $1,000 to 5 per cent. on $100,000. Soon after 4 o'clock the senate adjourned.

The house continued its work on the anti-option bill and agreed to take a final vote on Friday.

THURSDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—After preliminary work the senate resumed consideration of the tariff bill yesterday. Mr. Hill (N. Y.) made a lengthy argument against the income tax. Mr. Allen (Neb.) made a vigorous speech in which he handled very severely Senator Chandler's accusation that he (Allen) made a bargain to vote for the bill in consideration of free lumber. Mr. Chandler retorted in a spirited speech. The debate on the income tax was lively and occupied the entire day. Mr. Pepper's graduated tax amendment was defeated. The sugar investigating committee reported and the senate adjourned.

The proceedings in the house were rather dull, the anti-option bill being under debate in committee of the whole. Several minor bills and resolutions passed.

FRIDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Not only the temperature, but the debate was warm in the senate yesterday. Senators Allen and Hill had a tilt; so did the latter and Senator Harris, and Senator Call (Fla.) shocked the dignity of the senate by taking off his shoes and exhibiting the color of his stockings with his feet on his desk. However, a bill passed for the relief of St. Charles (Mo.) college, being payment for property taken during the war, and also the bill making labor day a legal holiday. Mr. Kyle spoke in favor of the income tax, so did Mr. Teller. Mr. Sherman opposed it. Messrs. Allen (Neb.), Walsh (Ga.) and Jarvis (N. C.) favored it. At 6 o'clock Mr. Hill asked for an adjournment, but Mr. Harris opposed the motion, which led to a severe tilt between the two senators, pending which the quorum vanished and the senate adjourned.

The house further considered Mr. Hatch's anti-option bill and after several amendments the bill was passed—149 yeas to 87 nays. The general deficiency bill was taken up and a recess until evening taken, when pension bills were considered.

SATURDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The senate continued debate on the income tax feature of the tariff bill on Saturday, but made no progress as the time was occupied by Senator Hill and others in speeches in opposition. The senate adjourned at 4 o'clock.

The house held an uninteresting and brief session, the time being mostly occupied in squabbling over pensions.

MONDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—When the senate met yesterday Senator Morgan, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, offered resolutions of sympathy and sorrow on the bereavement that had fallen upon France in the assassination of President Carnot, which the senate adopted and immediately adjourned.

When the house met a message from the president was received giving officially the fact of the assassination of the French president. Resolutions of sympathy were offered by Mr. McCreary, and after speeches they were adopted and the house adjourned.
